ALLIES' POSITION IN THE WEST TO BE IMPREGNABLE

Experts Tell Live Wires of Invaluable Benefits of Gas Discovery to City

Experts Tell Wonderful Possibilities of City's Gas Fields Near Viking

Members of Industrial Association Enthused When Facts and Figures Concerning Were Given by Those Who Know—Association Has Made Valuable Gift to City Will Encourage Industries and Supply Cheap Power to City Utilities.

After enjoying a most elaborate meal at the Cecil hotel at the noon hour Thursday, 200 enthusiastic members of the Edmonton Industrial Association sat back in their chairs and heard facts and figures about natural gas and especially in direct reference to the Edmonton gas well at Viking, that sent new thrills through their being and infused each and every one of them with better ideas and knowledge of the recent strike seventy odd miles from the city.

Secretary W. A. Milne stated that the news of the gas strike had already appeared in over 1,200 newspapers, magazines and other publications throughout Canada, Great Britain and the United States. Edmonton's gas proposition was receiving great publicity.

Mr. Milne then read a paper by James A. Kelso, chemical engineer of the University of Alberta, regarding the gas proposition. Mr. Kelso had been supplied with two jars of the gas from the Viking well and had made tests, and some of the facts gained from these were as follows:

The gas is of the highest quality and indicates that a large body has been tapped. The finding of gas will mean a big impetus to manufacturing concerns. The gas is much higher in heating quality than any gas found in the United States. Especially in the manufacture of glassware and similar goods, the Edmonton gas offers excellent possibilities. Also, the high grade tar sands in the north are one of the necessities of a glass plant. As they were 87 per cent. pure, which analysis of these sands showed that would make number one glass.

The Viking gas would be an ideal fuel for such a plant, being a quick burning material with a low flame and without smoke. The Viking gas is free from sulphur gas or other injurious or useless constituents. It has a heating value of 1,000 B. T. U. per cubic foot, and will not have to be purified in any way.

Warrant Gasoline Industry.
There is a possibility also that the Viking gas carries the hydrocarbon vapors that are of sufficient quantity to warrant a branch of the gasoline industry and also the production of kerosene by means of this gas. As a fuel for a plant industry, the Viking gas would be ideal and there is no deposit in this district required in this industry.

R. H. Parsons, superintendent of the city power plant, gave a few very interesting facts and figures in regard to the possibilities of the gas.

He stated that the standpoint of the community is that of providing cheap power. Mr. Parsons stated that if the association had retained the well and had supplied that city with gas at the figure stated in the offer to the city made last year, they would have had an annual income of $125,000 upon a contract for 15 years, which is considered the life of a gas

SUBMARINE SINKS BRITISH TORPEDO GUNBOAT, "NIGER"

Thousands Witness Accident Off Deal, While Ship Lay in the Downs.

REPORTED TWO MISSING; 3 INJURED, CREW SAVED
First Time German Submarine Penetrated Downs, Where 100 Ships Anchored.

Deal, Eng., Nov. 12. (via London)—Thousands of persons yesterday witnessed the sinking of Deal, of the British torpedo gun boat "Niger," by a German submarine, while lying in the Downs, opposite the Deal.

At noon a loud report of an explosion was heard, dense columns of black smoke were seen to arise and the "Niger" almost immediately began to sink. The ship was seen to rise and then gradually to the surface until the greater length of her hull was visible. Then she slowly and gracefully beneath the water 20 minutes after she was struck. Her boilers burst immediately before she disappeared and caused a further rush of steam.

Nearly all the crew were below at dinner when the torpedo struck the ship and orders to close the water-tight doors were shouted from the bridge. When the crew fled to obey one of them observed the white foam following the course of the torpedo. The explosion followed and a large hole was made just before the bridge in the forward part of the vessel.

Boats were immediately launched, including two life-boats, and the crew, including Captain Muir and the officers, were rescued. Three of the survivors are injured and it is reported that two men were missing.

This is the first time a German submarine has penetrated the Downs, where nearly 100 ships were at anchor at the time of the disaster.

Secretary Milne stated that the first result from the exhibits in the association's new premises in the Purvis block had been noted. A farmer from the Guelph district had seen the exhibit and had purchased a farm in one of the represented districts. Four new members had been received during the past week. These were from Millett, Leeds, Gladby and Coronation. Bob McDonald, of the Selkirk hotel, had presented the association with four fine mounted deer heads, to be hung on the walls. The Martins Piano company had supplied a piano for use in the rooms and some 200 chairs had been supplied free of cost.

Why Power is Needed.
President Magrath, in answer to Mr. Parsons, said that two young representatives of one of the largest manufacturing concerns in Canada had visited Edmonton with a view to starting a large concern here, but had stated that the cost of power was so high that they could not consider it, but they had visited Medicine Hat, where they had offered them a gas well for their own use if they would settle there but the manufacturers had said they would prefer Edmonton if the power had been cheaper.

APPALLING STATE OF THINGS EXISTS IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Foreigners in Great Danger—All Manner of Atrocities Are Committed.

AUTHORITIES FORCING EVERYBODY INTO ARMY
Strategic Points in Russian Hands, Who are Attacking Aggressively.

Petersburg, Nov. 12.—Refugees who have arrived here from Constantinople report that the state of things there and in Turkey generally, is appalling. Irregulars, murder and atrocities are being committed, Armenians being the chief victims, but all foreigners are in great danger.

One refugee, a Greek, says he ran away to escape forced military service, leaving his wife and mother behind. According to his account, the Turkish authorities are forcing every man possible into the ranks of the army.

The fighting on Saturday and Sunday at Kopraklis was not renewed on Monday, but the day was spent in a vigorous artillery duel, apparently without result. In the meantime, Russian columns are marching up in two directions to relieve each other for an attack on Trzerni.

Several strategic points of utmost importance are already in the hands of the Russians.

Now in State of Siege.
London, Nov. 12.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram company says that certain points in Friesland and Groningen provinces in the Netherlands, along the Elbe, and the Prussian islands, have been declared in a state of siege in order to prevent illegal exportation.

No Change in Plans.
Washington, Nov. 12.—Secretary Bryan announced today after a conference with Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, that there had been no change in the plan originally approved by the German government for transportation of relief supplies to Belgium.

EDMONTON MAN WRITES MAYOR OF MONTREAL FOR WIFE OF SOME WEALTH
Montreal, Nov. 12.—Mayor Hector Martin received a letter this morning from an Edmonton man who is seeking a wife. The man insists that his bride-to-be must be possessed of from $2,000 to $10,000. If a widow, no dowry of less than $4,000 will do.

FIRST COUSINS OF KING GEORGE ARE IN ENEMY'S ARMY

Nationalist Member Will Ask Status of Dukes Cumberland and Albany.

London, Nov. 12.—The status of two semi-British dukes who are now fighting in the German army against Britain, the duke of Cumberland and the duke of Albany, will be debated in the house of commons tomorrow on a motion put by Sir John MacNeill, K.C., nationalist member for South Dunegal, who is anxious to know how Premier Asquith purposes to deal with these two cousins of King George of England. Mr. MacNeill will urge that they be deprived of their British peerages and titles and their seats in the house of lords.

The duke of Albany who has also the title of Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, is a first cousin of King George. He has a commission in one British and in several German regiments. His wife is a daughter of the Duke of Schleswig-Holstein. The duke of Cumberland is a second cousin of the king. He was born in 1845 and is a general in the British and a colonel in the Austrian army. He married a daughter of King Christian IX. of Denmark.

The matter of the more favored treatment accorded influential Germans in England will be raised by Harry C. Newton, nationalist member for Harwich, Essex, who proposes to question Home Secretary McKenna as to why British naturalization was granted to Baron Bruno Schroeder, a banker, since the outbreak of the war, which is the subject of the war, which is the subject of the war.

WOMEN FINALLY BREAKS DOWN, BUT MAN RETAINS COMPOSURE TILL LAST

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Just a fortnight after John J. McLeod was murdered, Harry Mason and Grace Borge, were committed to stand trial for the crime. The tragedy occurred on the night of Wednesday, October 28, and the prisoners were later arrested at Saskatoon. Nothing new transpired in the closing sessions of the preliminary hearing at St. Boniface, but the woman, Borge, broke down. Mason maintained his composure.

It is less than 50 miles from La Bassee to the coast, Neuport being due north of the first named point. The line, however, is by no means straight. The British hold solidly on to Arras.

The immediate effect of this is to give the allies the advantage of interior lines and concentrate fire in the two local districts between Ypres and Arras on the one hand and Arras and the Ypres canal, the French man objective on Dunkirk is definitely arrested. The line stands firm after one of the most desperate onslaughts of the war to date.

Paris Declares No Change of Importance in Western Front Since November 10

Allies Impregably Entrenched Along Long Battle Line Stretching From Belgium to Arras—Report states French and British Repulsed All Attacks, Strengthening Positions—German Objective on Dunkirk Definitely Arrested Until Yser Canal Forced.

Paris, Nov. 12.—The French official statement given out in Paris this afternoon says that the fighting on the left wing continues with violence and has been characterized with alternate advances and retreats without importance. Generally speaking, the statement declares that the battle front shows no important change since November 10. The text follows:

"On our left wing the fighting still continues with violence and has been conducted with alternate advances and retreats without importance. Speaking broadly, the battle front has not varied greatly since the tenth of November. In the evening of yesterday it extended along the line between Lomartzeville and Neuport; the Neuport canal to Ypres; the approaches of Ypres; in the region of Zonnebeke, and to the east of Arras."

No Change in Position of British.
"There has been no change in the positions held by the British army, which repulsed the attacks of the enemy and particularly an offensive movement undertaken by a detachment of the Prussian guard."

"From the canal of La Bassée as far as and up to the River Oise, there have been minor engagements."

"In the region of the River Aisne, in the neighborhood of Vaillay, we retained our position against a counter attack and we strengthened our position in the territory previously conquered by us."

"In the region of Craonne and on the Meuse, our army succeeded in reducing to silence the cannon of the enemy. Several of their pieces were even destroyed. We also made some progress in the vicinity of Berry au Bac."

In the Aronne, in the Vosges district, in Lorraine and in the Vosges, the respective positions show no change."

Report is Distinctly Encouraging.
The French official report today is distinctly encouraging. It shows that the great crown above and possibly that of the enemy to break through the allied north of La Bassee has been broken. The British have resulted in the rather barren gain of Dixmude, but in front and west of Dixmude the allied position is firm. The French line strongly entrenched along the raised banks of the Yser canal, and the Yser canal is forced, the German objective on Dunkirk is definitely arrested. The line stands firm after one of the most desperate onslaughts of the war to date.

W. J. Magrath at Luncheon He Will Not Run For Mayor
"I AM NOT A CANDIDATE FOR THE MAYORALTY POSITION."
W. J. Magrath at the noon luncheon of the Edmonton Industrial Association at the Cecil hotel on Thursday.

After hearing a number of addresses and facts regarding the natural gas problem at the Edmonton gas well at Viking, and after having shown to the large gathering that the united efforts of the Industrial Association had meant much to the success of the well, Mr. Magrath urged that such a stand might be taken in all civic affairs which would tend for the general welfare of the city and urged that the feeling should be such that all party differences should be forgotten and that the mayor's chair for the coming year should be filled by acclamation.

He stated that his name had been mentioned for the position, but added: "I wish they would wait until Magrath announces that he is running for mayor. Some people have taken it for granted and would try and drag a man's name through the muck. There are people going about the city saying that Magrath is a grifter."

"He who steals my purse steals trash, but he who attempts to take away my character, takes away the best I have and no man is going to do that with me. I am not a candidate for the mayoralty position and that is the reason I am speaking to you today."

When Mr. Magrath sat down, he was greeted with loud cheers and applause.

Story of Chicagoan Who Lost Passports Implicates Germany

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Chas. A. Ingels, the Chicagoan whose American passports were found on the person of Carl Hans Lady, executed in the tower of London as a German spy, today told how he lost his passport in Berlin. His story implicates the German foreign office and is being investigated by state department at Washington.

Ingels, who returned to his home here a few days ago after a prolonged sojourn in Europe, was caught in Berlin when the war broke out. He took his passport to the German foreign office to have it approved. He handed it to the clerk, expecting that in due course of routine it would be returned to the American embassy. It failed to appear, however. Ingels had to get another passport. The lost passport contained a description of Ingels, which, it is said, also covered the features of the spy.

CRUISER TAKEN OVER BY TURKEY FROM GERMANY PENETRATED BY SELL

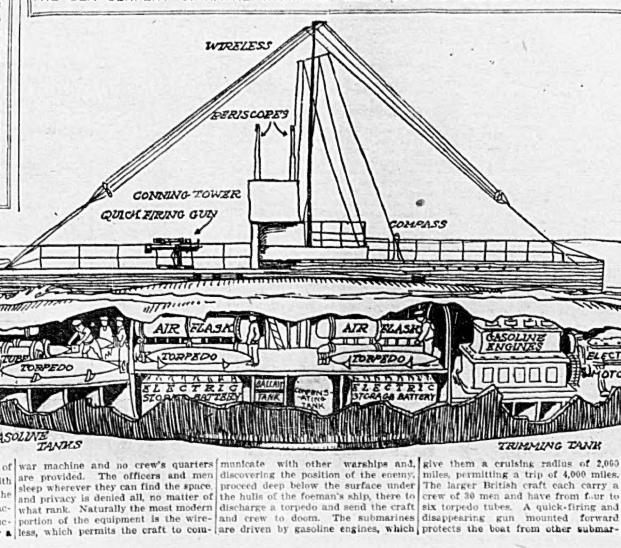

Petersburg, Nov. 12.—A despatch received from Constantinople says that the Turkish cruiser Goeben was penetrated by a shell at her water line during the recent bombardment of the Dardanelles by the allied Anglo-French fleet. The damage inflicted is described as serious. The Goeben is one of the German cruisers taken over by Turkey after the outbreak of the war.

Several Storm in Ten Years
London, Nov. 12.—A despatch to the Morning Post from Christiania, Norway, says:

"The severest storm in ten years has been raging along the coast, but is now abating. Several bridges are submerged and a number of ships in the harbor here are damaged or ashore. Mail service is disarranged."

"Most of the coasting steamers were wrecked in reaching refuge owing to a simple warning of the approach of the storm."

THE PROVISION WHICH WOULD FRUSTRATE LAND SPECULATION

The Port Arthur Board of Trade is canvassing the Dominion with a proposal that the government of Canada lend to township municipalities on their debentures a sum of, say, $50,000,000 in all, the money to be loaned to settlers at easy interest and long terms for the clearing and bringing under cultivation of additional land, the loan, of course, to be a first charge on the land.

While this scheme, like every other for the acceleration of the "back-to-the-land" movement, is a step in the right direction and while the Port Arthur scheme shows more points of practicability than probably any other which has yet taken concrete form, it is lacking in the most essential feature that it furnishes no guarantee that the land thus cleared will not subsequently be made the medium of landlordism through which successive users may be taxed up with the increment—either through purchase or rent—arising in the original through the extension to individuals of the use of government money.

The provision which is required in a back to the land movement in order to make its effects in the increase of prosperity permanent is one which requires that the land be continued in use. This is the provision which was omitted from the titles issued for Dominion lands in the prairie west when they were alienated. As a consequence of this their title was not millions of acres which, having been once ostensibly settled, are today vacant. The settlement, in the original, was not bona fide in a great many cases, but merely speculation, the homesteader having been more enamored of the idea of securing that much land for subsequent sale to some successive settler than of farming it himself. The result is that the land passed from first hands into the hands of other land speculators who purchased it from the homesteader or, more often, acquired it through mortgage, and who stands today in the position where he is able to make the oncoming farmer-settler deliver a price for what is virtually raw land which, were he able to apply it to the purchase of stock or equipment, would make him rich. There is the other experience, now so common in United States and in Eastern Canada, of the farm owner who retires to rent his farm on shares. The renter is compelled to pay one-half or one-third of the total product of his labor as rent for the use of land which was not the creation of the individual. While the aggregate of national wealth is not increased the land is made to support one family in idleness off another family's toil. Followed to their logical conclusion either system would nullify the individual's effort to attain prosperity, and thus nullify national prosperity. Where rent becomes sufficiently heavy to absorb the aggregate surplus of labor, labor gets no reward and prosperity dies. Ireland discovered this.

But if the money is lent in such a way that there is obligation, as well as of paying the interest, to continue the land in productive use, and if this dual obligation is first charge on the land, then there is provision that the extension of government credits will not become the medium through which immense areas of land may pass into private hands with no guarantee that landlordism will in the final outcome triumph more quickly even than it is doing now.

Far better than that, the government could acquire raw land closest to railways, equip it and prepare it for settlement, lease to who would use it on terms corresponding with the cost of land and equipment, with provision that no lease outlived the use of the land, and that no lease died so long as the land was put to proper use.

With such a provision there would be plenty of land for all and none held monopolistically out of use. The land speculator would find his occupation gone.

INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION'S INCIDENTAL SERVICE

One of the immediate if unexpected effects of the discovery of gas in such large quantities in the Viking field will be the reawakening of activity in prospecting for oil in the district to the east of Edmonton.

Without attempting to go into details as to formations and structure, it may be said that the great Belly River shale outcrop, traversed from Vegreville to Minburn on the Canadian Northern, from Bruce to Wainwright on the G. T. P. and from Hardisty to some distance beyond MacKlin, Sask., on the C. P. R., has already been given considerable attention by some most competent geologists and some very definite prognostications have been made as to its probable oil-bearing structure in certain sections, one report of the Dominion geological department having recorded a survey by which it was claimed that the great arch or anticline was even as early as 25 years ago definitely located.

In more recent months considerable attention was paid to the reports of the various geologists and considerable interest was taken in the eastern field, but for reasons which do not require much explaining in the present financial situation no general or thorough prospecting with the drill was undertaken.

Now, however, the Viking discovery more than corroborates in actual practice all the geologists' "dope" and besides proving that the gas area is as fruitful as anticipated and quite probably much more extensive, gives renewed reason for believing that the oil prospects are quite as bright as the geologists had predicted.

While the gas itself is an asset the value of which can scarcely be over-estimated, subsequent development may prove that by giving impetus to prospecting the Industrial association has incidentally set in motion an activity which might result in the development of a resource capable of a greater annual wealth production than the entire product of the province of Alberta today.

Big Shipment for Belgium.

ECONOMIC EPIGRAMS

Dr. Samuel Johnson defined patriotism as "the last refuge of a scoundrel." The man who gets his income from this country in a time of war and spends a good share of it in another, is the last kind of scoundrel that could be considered a patriot.

Buying Canadian-made goods is not a bad idea. It's organized common sense. Only the nation can afford to ignore a policy that means national prosperity. Every dollar spent for the goods of one's countrymen means an important step just now as every Canadian built into the ranks of the enemy. What do you think of the man who draws his pay in one country and spends it in another? Leave that to the Chinaman and his "chop suey."

It's as much the duty and to the advantage of every Canadian to buy goods made in Canada as for a Canadian soldier to fight for his own country instead of going over to the enemy.

BOMB DROPPED CLOSE TO NEW YORK COURT HOUSE

New York, Nov. 12.—A bomb was exploded alongside the Bronx County court house late last night. The bomb apparently was a powerful one, as it did considerable damage to the building within and without, and the shock of the explosion was felt blocks away.

The bomb, in the belief of the police, was intended for Judge Judge Louis B. Gibbs, who had presided recently in the cases of a number of foreigners convicted on "white slave" charges. Gibbs was at the time of the explosion was preparing to leave his chambers in the building, escaped injury.

BIG PUBLIC MEETING THURS. NIGHT LYCEUM THEATRE NEW CHARTER

Many prominent speakers will present Edmonton's new "Home Rule" Charter which is declared by municipal scholars to be model instruments municipal government unsurpassed on North American Continent

FIRST HALF HOUR WILL TALK GAS

W. R. Martin, manager drilling company, will give some facts and figures about natural gas in general and about the Edmonton well at Viking in particular—Opposition speakers support old charter

With the discovery of natural gas—thanks to the Industrial Association—Edmonton now only requires a system of municipal administration to guarantee the proper conduct of public business. We will vote on such a system December 14.

A realising big meeting will be held Thursday evening, Nov. 12th, in the Lyceum Theatre, Third and Jasper, at 8 o'clock when Edmonton's Electric Commission Government new city charter will be discussed fully, and from all phases. The first half hour of the meeting will be given over to talk of Edmonton's natural gas well, and W. R. Martin, manager of the drilling company, to whom much credit is due, will present some facts and figures which will assist in gaining a fuller realization of just what this last municipally owned public utility, with proper administration, will mean to Edmonton.

Number of "Tin Pots" Must be Increased in British Navy, Says Gazette.

London, Nov. 12.—Today's critics of the incidents of the closing of the career of the German cruiser, Emden, naturally endorse very cordially the congratulations already extended by the admiralty to the Australian government on the distinguished service rendered by their own battleship. One exponent of naval strategy remarks that the Emden's career shows that British naval strength in the Pacific at the outbreak of war was not what ought to have been.

The Westminster Gazette says: "We clearly must have more fast cruisers of the same type. The lesson will now doubtless be remembered when we come to reconsider the problem of the dominion's navy."

SALOONS IN MINNESOTA MAY BE CLOSED BECAUSE OF 1855 INDIAN TREATY

Benidj, Minn., Nov. 12.—Acting under instructions of Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, Henry A. Larson, special agent, late yesterday served notice on 25 Benidj saloon keepers to close their bars by November 20. Similar notices, he said, will be served on the 200 or more saloon men in the territory affected by the Indian treaty of 1855.

With five deputies working under him, Larson plans to notify every one of the licensed saloon keepers in the treaty zone of the intention of the commissioner to enforce the provisions of the treaty. Sixty-six towns and villages in northern Minnesota are located in the vast territory covered by the treaty. Among the large towns that will go "dry" are Hibbing, Brainerd, Itasca, Big Fork, Cass Lake, Chisholm, Cohasset, Deerwood, Colrain, Marble, and Detroit; Fraser, Grand Rapids, Nodaway, Walker and Park Rapids.

PARCELS FOR SAILORS CONTAIN CLOTHING NOT SUITABLE FOR THEM

London, Nov. 12.—Lady Jellicoe concerning the appeal for gifts of clothing for men in the new fleet, said today no appeal was being made beyond the British Isles by her authority. She had received some parcels of clothing from Canada and supposed they came from people who had read the appeal in the London papers or through private sources. London contributions would be more appreciated, she said, as some of the parcels received contained clothing which could not be used.

TORONTO BROKER BEARS TESTIMONY

At Rosendaal Saw Mother of Young Woman Whom Germans Drove Crazy.

FATHER IS TIED AND SHOT
 Children Have Hands Cut Off and Nine-year-old Loses Fingers.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—D. Mayall, a Toronto financial broker, recently returning from the seat of war, bears personal testimony to the atrocities committed by the Germans in Belgium. He said in interview last night.

"At Rosendaal I came into contact with the mother of a young woman who had been mistreated by four German soldiers to such an extent that she had to be placed in an asylum. The incident took place in Aershot. The soldiers had compelled the parents to witness the atrocity. The father protested against such treatment of his daughter and when he stepped forward to defend her he was tied hand and foot and shot."

Mr. Mayall declares that he saw two children whose hands had been cut off, and a 9-year-old girl who had lost all the fingers of both hands.

A CLEVER CAPTURE

(From Beck's Weekly, Montreal)

The story of how a 149 Germans were cleverly captured by a group of 25 French soldiers, is told in the "Matin."

The French were a party of cooks left in a village by the regiment to prepare the evening meal. They were in occupation of a farmyard, and suddenly heard the sound of marching. One of them managed to observe the advancing troops without being seen. All but one of the cooks hurriedly took up position in the wood, and their comrade remained in the yard. As the Germans came up he went forward to meet them, shouting to them: "Lay down your arms and surrender or you will be shot down to a man."

The officers halted their men and the French soldier said again: "Surrender or we open fire." Meanwhile the men in the wood blew their whistles, suggesting that they were in force. Believing that the French were agreed to surrender, but the question was how to disarm them. First the French soldier made the officers lay down their arms; then the men had to do the same and advance in file and pile their arms. It was then that all but one of the cooks came out of the wood with fixed bayonets. It was then, however, too late to resist, and when the regiment returned they found 149 Germans securely locked up in one of the barns waiting for an escort to take them to the rear.

ADJUSTMENT WITH ORGANIZED BALL

Thinks Peace With O. B. Will Soon Be Arranged—Feds May Take Over Cubs and Two Other Major Leagues in South and West Formed—Conference Today.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—In an inter-league and the international league. The Federal league was organized on a major league basis and will continue as such under its own name, no matter what deal may be made with organized baseball, according to a statement made tonight by President James A. Gilmore, of the Federal league, who declared that all the owners of the league will stand together for a fair settlement. Gilmore declared that the members of the organization had no intention of selling out to the detriment of the Federal. The statement added:

"The Federal league stands ready to do anything that will promote the interest of baseball in general. They are willing to make a settlement on any honorable basis. If such a settlement is not consummated before the 1915 season, it will not be the fault of the Federal league officials. We admit that in order to bring such a settlement into effect it would be necessary to transfer certain franchises, and a committee of the Federal league officials is willing to meet a committee from organized baseball and solve the problem."

"There is a thorough understanding among all officers of the Federal league and there is no fear on the part of any official that one or more of the others are going to consummate a deal that will protect their own interests irrespective of what happens to the others."

"Cities like Buffalo, Baltimore and Indianapolis are entitled to major league baseball. The utter disregard that the minor league club owners have had for the general public in the three cities mentioned during the last ten or twelve years was the real cause of the almost total lack of patronage at their parks during the last year."

"I wish to state at this time in a most emphatic manner that the Federal league was organized on a major league basis and will continue as such. There will be no deal made with organized baseball which calls for the elimination of the Federal league. Our organization must consent to the transferring of one or two franchises, but the Federal league in name and in standing must continue."
